The charges have caused much excitement in the Chinese court, Houng-Tchun being a man of great influence and being under the protection of the surviving Empress dowoger, commonly known as the Western Empress, who, although she has lawly withdraw from power, still possesses a most influential voice in the affairs of the Imperial Government. The Russian aggressions in the Pamir region have excited great irritation in Pekin and there is a disposition to deal severely with all who have afforded any pretext for those aggressions. It is said that for this reason Houn-Tchun has been marked out as a victim by the Board of Censors in order to satisfy public clamor.

A SCATHING ARRAIGNMENT. MONTREAL, Quebec, March 9.—A pamphlet of 200 pages entitled "Clerical Ruin," and of 300 pages entitled "Clerical Ruin," and which promises to to create a great sensation in the religious world, has been made public. It contains a terribly scathing arraignment of the Roman Catholic clergy of the Dominion. The work is from the pens of a number of well known French Canadian writers, among whom are Sanvall, formerly of Le Patrie; Filiatrault, of the Canada Review. The work will so doubt ald greatly in the movament for religious independence, which has been on foot for sometime among the French Canadian Uatholics.

One of the articles is devoted to the Jesuits; another and very sensational one to "Mysticism and Chastity," in which due peteronce is made to the late clerical scandals.

The crime for which Ford was hanged to-day was the murder of Marshal R. M. Cloy, in McComb City on Sept. 28, 1891. He was tried at the October term of the Circuit Court, convicted of murder and sentenced to hang Dec. 1 following. After his conviction he was confined in the Magnolia Jail, from which, by outside assistance, he effected an escape on Nov. 9, 1891. He went to the mountains of Georgia and evaded arrest till April 1, 1892. On that day he went to Chattanooga, it is said after whisky, when he was arrested and returned to Mississippi.

The loser had fully recovered from his knock-out blow, his spirits were depressed and his frends and awake until late talking our the unfortu-nate fluke that lost them the fight. Mitchell and McAuliffe were in the corridor of the hotel until 2 o'clock this morning. Each lost considerably on the fight but neither had changed his opinion that the better man had been licked. They said Hall got a blow that would be landed once in twenty battles and that physical endurance gave out and both gave Fitzsimmons credit for his cunning. Hail did not rise until late this morning and stuck to his room. He expects to go back East again and none of his friends have deserted him. He wants another chance at the winner, and is willing to fight again within a week, a month or any time that "Fitz" may select, and he has money to back himself for any amount in any kind of a battle, bare knuckles or otherwise. Sports are agreed in the opinion that Fitz will refuse him another chance, but it is not improbable that Hall and his friends will eventually taunt the champion into trying conclusions again with McAuliffe were in the corridor of the champion into trying conclusions again with the Australian. The club is a loser on the venture, but it is impossible to calculate what sum will represent the deficit until the light after the fight had started. Fitz was on the street very early this morning and a great crowd followed himaround wherever he went, blocking the sidewalks when he stopped. He is receiving many telegrams and many offers of engagements, but will have nothing to say concerning his plans until he has collected his share of the purse and has paid a visit to his quarters at the bay. He was so confident of winning that he put several thousands on himself and won.

MAN'S ORGANISM.

Physically Considered It is a Wonderful

From the Popular Science Monthly. In the human body there are about 268 bones. The muscles are about 500 in number. The length of the alimentary canal is about 32 feet. The amount of blood in an adult averages 30 pounds, or fully one-fifth of the entire weight. The heart is 6 inches in length and 4 inches in diameter, and beats 70 times per minute, 4,200 times per hour, 100,800 times per day,85,792,000 times per year, 2,565,440,000 in three-score and ten, and at each beat 2½ ounces of blood are thrown out of ft, 175 ounces per minute, 636 pounds per hour, 7¼ tons per day. All the blood in the body passed through the heart in three minutes.

This little organ, by its ceaseless industry, pumps each day what is equal to lifting 122 tons 1 foot high, or one ton, 122 feet high. The lungs will contain about one gallon of air at their usual degree of inflation. We breathe on an average 1,200 times per hour, inhale 600 gallons of air, or 24,000 per day. The aggregate surface of the air cells of the lungs exceeds 20,000 square inches, an area nearly equal to the floor of a room 12 feet square. The average weight of the brain of an adult male is 3 pounds and 8 ounces; of a female, 2 pounds and 4 ounces. The nerves are all connected with it, directly or by the spinal marrow. These nerves, together with their branches and minute ramifications, probably exceed 10,000,000 in number, forming a "body guard" outnumbering by far the greatest army ever marshaled.

The skin is composed of three layers and varies from one-fourth to one-eighth of an inch in thickness. The atmospheric pressure being about fourteen pounds to the square inch, of skin contains 3,500 sweating tubes, or perspiratory pores, each of which may be likened to a little drain pipe one-fourth of an inch in person of the dody of 201,166 feet, or a tile ditch for draining the body almost forty miles long. Federal Court Notes. In the United States Circuit Court of Appeals a suit was filed this morning by Ortha C. Bell, receiver of the First National Bank of C. Bell, receiver of the First National Bank of Bed Cloud, Neb., against the National Bank of Commerce of Omaha. The plaintif alleged that the defendant was indebted to him in the sum of $8,487, payment of which was refused. The defendant admitted that this amount stood on the bank books as due to the First National Bank of Red Cloud, but stated that, according to the agreements entered into between the banks, it could he held to meet the obligations of the defendant to the plaintiff, which exceeded the amount sued for by $1,208. The lower court gave a verdict for the defendant, from which an appeal is taken.

Another suit was filed by the same plaintiff against the Nebraska and Kansas Farm Loan Co. to recover $5,545, the amount of a note given by the defendant. The defense was set up that the secretary of the defendant, J. M. Mr. Sherman (Rep.) of Ohio said that he had looked into the precedents and had found that in nerely every called session (running back at least forty years) the Senate had received petitions, resolutions and other legislative matter, although usually it did not act upon them. It was a mere question of discretion.

A resolution excluding such business was offered by Mr. Manderson (Rep.) of Nebraska, and was allowed to go over without action until Menday next. The Senate then proceeded to executive business and after a few minutes adjourned until Monday.

Senator Roach, the new member from North Dakota, this morning entered an emphatic denial to the story sent out from Grand Forks to the effect that he intended to resign.

WRITERS' CRAMP.

What It Is and the Remedies Which Are Recommended for Sufferers. From the Ladies' Home Journal.

Under this title we understand an affection which is quite common among those persons who, by the nature of their occupations, are compelled to write for many consecutive hours. It consists of a spasmodic contraction of the muscles of the thumb and fingers, rendering them istif and useless and causing in some cases considerable pain. It comes on gradually, rarely affecting those in robust health, but usually attacking nervous and excitable persons.

As soon as the person affected stops writing the cramp ceases, but returns as soon as he again attempts it, whereas any other use of the hand falls to bring it back. People suffering from this trouble try to effect a cure by moving the wrist and forearm in writing when it extends to these muscles. The left hand is often brought into use, but after a short time becomes similarly affected. Strenuous efforts are often made when the cramp sets in to overcome it by muscular effort, and sometimes the person is able to write for a few moments, but the result is a miserable specimen of penmanship, and is often illegible. In a short time, however, even the power to hold the pen becomes impossible.

The disease is unknown in childhood, seldom coming on before the 25th year, affecting men more frequently than women. Writing with pencils or the stylographic pen is not so liable to produce writers' cramp as is the sharp-pointed steel pen, the reason being that there is less resistance. Tobacco and alcohol in excess are said to be causative agents. There is also a certain hereditary tendency to cramp. Injuries to the fingers and arm sometimes act as predisposing causes. secutive hours. It consists of a spasmodic contraction of the muscles of the thumb and and arm sometimes act as predisposing causes.

There are two classes of muscular action concerned which are important causes in the disease—the steady contraction of the muscles that poise the hand and hold the pen, and the intermitted contractions of the muscles concerned in moving it.

A cramp of a similar nature sometimes attacks planists, violin players, seamstresses, tacks planists, violin players, seamstresses, mikmaids, telegraph operators, etc. If the desease has existed by a short time a cure can almost positivelyiby expected, but; where it has been of long standing, treament, though carried out conscientiously and extending over a very long period, often yields little or no results.

As regards prevention, a soft stub pen, smooth paper, a desk of convention height, with ample room to allow the arm full swing, sincoth paper, a desk of convention height, with ample room to allow the arm full swing, the same of the arm to form the letters, changing the manner of heiding the pen using the typewriter, etc., all form important factors in preventing the disease, especially in those who experience such ease, especially in those who experience such the muscles, slight paid and sudden contractions and spasms of the fingers.

CUT IN TWO.

NE SAWMAN KILLED AND ANOTHER INJURED IN A PECULIAR ACCIDENT.

WYANDOTTE, Mich., March 9 .- Seven miles vest of this city, in Taylor Township, yesterday morning, Herman Meinke and Amor Coan were using an old-fashioned machine saw, converting a lot of timber into logs and sticks. Just before noon Meinke placed an extra heavy and knotted plece of wood on the table. While he adjusted it he and Coan, who stood directly back of him, were engaged in conversation. When the blade had dug its way about half through the wood, it struck a snag and the saw leaped from its bearings. In its lightning flight through the air, it took a slightly upward direction and the blade struck Meinke squarely in the back. The saw severed the riby as quickly as if the boy were made of paper, and striking the heart full in the center, cut that organ in two. Meinke was thrown backwards by the force of the blow, and the saw struck Coan on the left arm, and cut that member off just below the shoulder. The accident was caused by the breaking of a wooden screw with which the saw had been fastened to the frame.

TO FIGHT THE TRUST.

New White Lead Company Organized By Et. Louisans. President Alexander Euston of the Crown Linseed Oil Co. has, with Mr. John Neville and Mr. C. W. Blow, gone into the white lead business on a somewhat extensive scale and will undoubtedly make a pretty warm fight with the Lead Trust. A circular has been issued to the trade, stating the company's position and announcing that on or about April 18 the Granby White Lead Co. will be ready to supply the trade with a superior article of white lead at prices more favorable than those of the trust, this being made possible, the company claims, by the fact that works have been established at Granby station, a mile and a half due east from the ordige entrance in East St. Louis, where the added transportation facilities will give them a great advantage.

A call was made at the Linseed Oil works to see Mr. Euston, but he was out of the city, and Mr. Blow, the secretary of the new company, said, in reply to a question:

"No, we are not going to make any war. We simply see a good opening and take advantage of it. We are starting the white lead business just as you would start a newspaper, if you saw a good chance to make it pay." April 18 the Granby White Lead Co. will pay. You will, however, come into active com-petition with the trust on white lead?"

"Yes, we expect that, but think that we can sell a better article cheaper than they can because we have more favorable facilities onn because we have more favorable facilities to get out the supply," Mr. Blow went on to explain that when the Collier company went into the Trust, Mr. Euston, Mr. Neville and he himself withdrew from the company and went into the linseed oil business, and how, seeing a good chance.

A critical observer of the physical cultur ystem of the public schools of St. Louis ha been in the city the last few days taking notes. She had, though, no idea (that she ould print 'em' until a Post-Dispatch re orter called on her at the Lindell Hotel and porter called on her at the Lindell Hotel and extorted an unwilling statement of her views upon the efficiency of that branch of education which looks to bodily culture. Mrs. T. J. Presee, better known in the physical culture world as Mrs. Louisa Presce, has a national reputation as a lecturer and teacher of teachers in this educational department. At present she is Supervisor of Physical Culture of the public schools of Minneapolis. Years ago she became a graduate of the High School of St. Louis and then a teacher in the schools, and she will be remembered by many people as Miss Louise Eaton, her maiden name.

Mrs. Prece was very favorably impressed by the work of Mrs. Mary Hogan Lindium in the High and Normal Schools. She saw graceful girls and boys of fine bearing in those institutions but the grad some sent the second some things to Mrs. Preece was very favorably impressed by the work of Mrs. Mary Hogan Ludium in the High and Normal Schools. She saw graceful girls and boys of fine bearing in those institutions, but she found some things to criticise in the graded schools where the Turner system is in vogue. She said: "I looked over the schools, or some of them, with an eye to regults rather than as to details. I found that the children rose awkwardly from their seats, sat with one shoulder away up above the other while writing and went through the exercises without knowing why they were doing it. I asked one teacher what the object of the lessons was and she said she didn't know. Then I said, 'Why make the children go through these drills?' Her only answer was that she had instructions to do so. Now, if children are not informed of what use these things are they will take little interest in them and they will go through them in a perfunctory wearled way. They should be told why they are benefited by each movement.

"I am a Deisartean, but not a desciple of Deisarte with poses. Every attitude is of course, a pose, but they should be unconscious poses, and not the artificial straining for effects."

Mrs. Preece was asked if she considered the gymnastic work in the graded schools be unconscious poses, and not the artificial straining for effects."

Mrs. Preece was asked if she considered the symnastic work in the graded schools practical, and answered that she did not. She did not see any good results. The children were not led to better position in writing nor to better rising or sitting and they were not given an understanding of the phillosophy of the training. Apparatus work strains instead of trains, and the restlessness of children at study did not show beneficial results. The physical culture system was costing the St. Louis schools more than it cost in almost any other place she knew of and in the graded schools she thought the end was not satisfactory.

Neither the engineer or the fireman were in the cab at the time, the former being at the side of the tender and the latter out on the footboard. The bursting of the flue caused a sheet of fire and a cloud of steam to fill the cab, and the engineer jumped from the tender just in time to save himself. The fact that his hair was singed shows that he had a narrow escape. The locomotity was not greatly damaged, but as it was an old machine that had been used many years, it was thrown out of service.

The feeling renerally among men who then yoted for the Independent Council nominest was yesterday that no side movement was needed in this campaign. It seemed to be thought that Independent voters by scratchingsboth tickets could get satisfactory nominees for all of the important offices. Nevertheless, there seemed to the Executive Committee of the Independents to be sufficient ground for a consultation yesterday afternoon in the office of Carl Dapage, the Chairman. Of this Executive Committee there were present James L. Biair. Frank R. O'Nell, Thos. B. Mc-Pheeters and Chas. Nagel. These gentlemen discussed the matter at length, talked over the nominees on the tickets and considered the question of money for the campaign. It was finally decided to send out circulars to the $,500 independent voters of the city, asking them what they thought of the proposition to put an independent ticket in the field by indorsing various men from each ficket, and making a new nomination in the places of men who may be regarded as unsatisfactory. These circulars are being prepared to day and will be sent out to-morrow. Upon the answers to them will depend the Independent ticket and foot the pretty heavy bills themselves, as they did for the most part, two years ago. How They Played Their Games So Get Seats in the Car.

From the Chicage Times.

They gol on the car at Monros street, a party of them—three handsome elderly women and two young girls. It was latensarily 11:20—and the car was crowded. Seats were found, however, for the alders of the party, and presently a young man wearing a big yellow chrysanthemam galiantly profased hit seats that he hanked him so graciously that, sleepy as I was, I felt impelled to take the second look.

She sat opposite, and the more I gased the wider awake I grew. She seemed demure enough to satisfy the most rigid duenna, but when the eyes flashed out suddenly from under the long lashes I thought I detected a subtle suggestion of wickedness that a few minutes later was verified.

Her companion (No. 1, for convenience) stood half way down the side clutching the leather strap with her daintily gloved hand, and looking, oh, so sleepy and bored. No. 2 was watching her, while I in turn kept my eyes wide open, feeling sure there was mischief brewing.

Suddenly No 2 rose, and walking to where her friend stood whispered something, at which the friend shook her head. She whispered again and was evidently successful, for No. I walked on and took the soat just vacated, dropped her head on her hand, her whole attitude betokening complete exhaustion, while No. 2 bravely reached up for a strap and looked the picture of unconscious unsellishness.

strap and looked the picture of unconscious unselfishness.

She had only a moment in which to pose, however, for what man could sit after seeing a girl so magnanimously give her seat to the friend, who was evidently ill? Besides, she was young and charming, and not only one, but two young men were each imploring her to accept his seat.

As she sank gracefully beside her friend, they exchanged glances, and I feli to wondering if it were the first time they had worked this little scheme. At any rate, it was a decided success, and goes to show how easily ing if it were the first time they had worked this little scheme. At any rate, it was a decided success, and goes to show how easily the natural chivalry of men can be brought to light (even in a street car) if you only set about it properly.

After such a delegate bit of unesse, who could say that those two girls needed the chaperonage of three elderly women?

ANIMAL FRIENDSHIP. A Wounded Elephant Is Nursed by a

Wild elephants sometimes make devoted riends of other animals. A party of hunters in Central Africa once wounded a large bull elephant, which traveled scores of miles into the jungle after receiving the heavy-builet in his shoulder. The chase was abandoned for that time. A fortnight later the hunters came upon the same beast. He was lying on his injured side near a stream in a dense forest. A buffalo cow was standing over the fallen monarch, gently licking the blood from the wound. Frequently she would leave him and go to the stream, and, by pawing at its edge, toss a lot of water upon the rank grass within reach of the elephant's trunk, it was probably in this way that refreshing moisture had been conveyed to the fevered and suffering giant, keeping him alive.

The hunters were divided as to whether the elephant should be put out of his misery. It was finally decided to give him a chance for his life under the nursing of the cow.

Several weeks later, when the party were making their way back toward the coast, they came across a lame elephant, attended by a buffalo cow. friends of other animals. A party of hunters

CITIES LIGHTED BY BALLOONS. Details of a Plan Which Will Pe Tested at

The World's Fair. for lighting cities is the latest idea of turnng the light of lights to a practical use. This dea may seem very visionary, but C. A. Smith, one of San Francisco's inventors, has sufficient confidence in the scheme to commence operations in constructing a to commence operations in constructing a balloon for that purpose. This balloon will not to be of the ordinary silk-bag pattern, but will be made of aluminum in the shape of a cigar, pointed at each end. It will be about forty feet long and fifteen feet in diameter at its largest point, and will contain similcient gas to sustain it in the roughest weather. Fans will be constructed so as to hold it point up to the wind and keep it from dipplies, and in calm weather it will be so balanced that it will remain perfectly level. A cable containing the electric wires will hold it at a sufficient elevation, so that the light will be spread over the area to be illuminated to the best advantage. The balloon will sustain six are lights, or it can be so made as to be covered with incandescent lights, each one of which will be inclosed with a reflector so as to concentrate the rays of the light mull be provided for hauling the balloon to the earth for trimming the light or making any repairs that might become necessary, or raising or lowering it so that the light may be advantageously distributed. The inventor claims that, counting the first cost of the balloons and fheir maintenance, the total cost of lighting a city the size of san Francisco will be reduced considerably, as one balloon will suffice for from four to six blocks. At the same time the tangle of deadly and unsightly wires from the streets will be removed and danger from fires reduced. Mr. Smith, in addition to the lights, has invented an arrangement of mirrors, which will be piaced on the under side of the balloon, so that a person on one street can see what is transpiring on the next, even though blocks of buildings intervene, and this mirror arrangement, the inventor says, will be of great service to the fire department, as the location of fiames can be easily ascertained should they break out from a building.

"Perhaps the best use to which this system of lighting would be turned would be to harpalloon for that purpose. This balloon will tained should they break out from a building.

"Perhaps the best use to which this system of lighting would be turned would be to harbors," said hir. Smith to a Call reporter.

"Three or four of these balloons placed over San Francisco Bay would make the harbor as light as day. The members of the San Francisco Electric Association have discussed my scheme pretty thoroughly, and they claim that it is not only possible, but one that would be very useful as a system of city lighting. I have enough faith in it to secure space at the World's Fair to place it on exhibition, and my attention from now until the Fair opens will be directed toward constructing a balloon and having it in perfect work.

Two Stories of Crime Brought From the South Seas. San Francisco, Cal., March 9 .- Two bloods stories of mutiny and murder in the South Seas were brought here yesterday by the steamer Australia. One mutiny occurred or sulted in the gangerous wounding of the fourth mate, Joe Baptiste, by a sailor named Carl Hendryk. Six of the crew came up on the steamer, while thirteen are in irons at Honolulu. The other occurred on the American bark Hesper, which result-ed in the death of the second mate, M. Fitz-gerald. Thomas Leclair, the murderer, and Herman Sparf and Hans Hansens, his ac-complices in the crime, were brought here in Irons.

Barilla Said to Have Driven Out President Leiva of Honduras.

HIS SUCCESS MAY INVOLVE ALL CEN-

of Ordinary Political Campaigns in That Country-The Views of a Nicarayuan on the Troubles of the Little Republics.

Washington, March 8.—The announcement duras is credited by representatives of Central American Republics here, although it has not been officially confirmed. Bonilla was one of the leaders of the revolt in Souththe rebels last August. He escaped into Nicaraugua, and it is reported that he has been assisted by the President of that Republic to set the present revolution on foot. Bonilla's military leader is Gen. Sierra, who has been engaged in every battle of importance that has been fought on Honduras soil in the last twenty years. He is a fighter, and ogainst President Leiva.

Leiva succeeded Bogran in the Presidency of the Republic, and has not long occupied the post. Since his accession to power there have been three revolts against his rule. Pending Leiva's election Bonilla was made provisional President, Bogran having been accused of treason and thrown into prison. The real importance of the present revolution in Honduras is the probability that it will involve all the Central American States. A year ago a Congress composed of dele America met at Tegucigalpa and entered into an agreement for international peace. But nothing came of the convention. "I will recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as first-class. It has proved its merits to us. Twelve year's ago my wife was picking raspberries when she scratched herself on a brier, the wound from which soon developed into terrible sore, between her knee and ankle. fotwithstanding all we did for it, it continued discharging for elevan long years. We tried medical skill on every side, with no effect. PASSES will be accepted by members of Legislatures as long as they are offered by railroad companies who are interested in having things done or undone at State capitals. And a pasteboard card is not the only kind of pass, nor the one most frequently used. The corrupting element is the railroad lobby which must be driven away before legislators can be expected to be pure as snow.

Ir begins to look as if the members of the royal family of Hawaii are more any. ious for plump pensions guaranteed than s restoration of their "rights to the throne." A pension is not so dignified as a throne but is much more stable in these seismic times, when revolutionary rumblings shake the pleasant islands. Maybe they would compromise if Claus Spreckels would agree to pay the pensions out of his more than royal revenue.

THE MUNICIPAL ASSEMBLY.

By nominating a good man here and there on their Municipal Assembly tickets to pull the doubtful ones through the ballot box, the boss combines sometimes over reach themselves. Such a man as Franklin Ferriss on the Republican Council ticket, for instance, might develop into a strong fighter against corrupt schemes in the Council, and, supported by several other good men that may be elected from both tickets, and with such Council President as Parker, defeat many well-laid plans. The success of such schemes generally depends on the ability of the managers to avoid any vigorous opposition. When there is any such opposition their tools are apt to become shaky and slink out of the game or hold out their hands for more "stuff."

But the positive refusal of Mr. Parker t accept the Republican nomination for President of the Council makes a bad situation still worse. This throws the nomination for President of the Council the original Filley-Butler arrangement was in the Republican convention when it was known that he would not accept and had to-morrow night. The supposition that taken every means in his power to let the convention know it.

The Republicans may brand Butler's trade-mark on the Democratic Assembly ticket and Democrats brand Filley's trademark on the Republican ticket, but the Filley-Butler or Butler-Filley regency of the Municipal Assembly has been amply provided for by the co-oporative action of ooth party conventions.

Organized, independent action is needed to defeat the plans for this joint bossism over our municipal Legislature. It does not matter which of the two worthies is to which the silent partner in the back room. We want an Assembly that cannot be worked by either, and if the Independents cannot help us to get that, what are they here for and what are they fit for?

MUSICALE RIGHTS.

Ladies who are fond of giving musicale will feel grateful to Police Justice Meegan for throwing around them and their house at the critical period when the music is in full blast the strong protection of the law against violent opposition of the neighbors. He has decided in the interesting case of Mrs. Walsh vs. Mrs. Spore, that musicale givers have rights, which their extremely tortured and provoked neighbors are bound to respect.

It seems that Mrs. Walsh gave a musi-CLAUS SPRECKELS is in Mexico and is cale, the effect of which aroused the violent indignation of her next door neighbor, Mrs. Spore, who interrupted the flow of melody by rapping on the separating wall and yelling to Mrs. Walsh to shut up that "bandbox." This insulting epithet was doubtless hurled at the piano upon which Mrs. Walsh was then exhibiting her skill. A warlike parley followed, after which Mrs. Walsh defiantly asserted her right to be as musical as she pleased in her own house by singing "'Mottoes on the Wall." This aroused Mrs. Spore's ire to such a pitch of intensity that she called out the musicale and doused it with billingsgate and cold water.

In imposing a fine of $5 and costs upon Mrs. Spore it is to be regretted that Police Justice Meegan missed a golden opportunity to contribute to the immortal decisions by defining the scope to be allowed a musicale in point of the nature, kind, quality and amount of voices, instruments and music, and the limits of neighborly endurance. There was apparently no evidence with regard to Mrs. Walsh's piano or voice or the manner in which she rendered "Mottoes on the Wall," nor did the Justice intimate whether the rendition of Wagner or "Annie Rooney" or "Ta ra ra Boom de ay" would be a disturbance justifying in-

THE LETTER-CARRIERS' CONTEST.

In the Letter-carriers' Contest just ended the Post-Disparch has completed the imense work of counting the coupons and prepared to announce the result. In order, however, that there shall be no ground for complaint an invitation is herewith extended to the Letter-carriers' Association to appoint a committee to verify this count if it is the wish of the intestants. Awaiting their pleasure no announcement will be made before next Sunday and if requested by the carriers' sociation the announcement will be postponed for ten days to enable the committee to make a second count. The greatest care has already been taken to make the work accurate, but any committee appointed will be afforded every facility for making a recount. If the count already made is satisfactory and no request for another is made before 3 p. m. next Saturday the result of the contest will be given in the Post-Dispatch on next Sun day morning.

MONEY POWER ON THE BENCH.

Another case of "protection afforded by the courts" to railways in difficulties i brought to light by the scorching message of Gov. Hogg to the Texas Legislature. In this instance a railway capitalized for $24,000,000 with a land grant of an area greater than the States of Rhode Island and Connecticut passed into the hands of the court on petition of the creditors in 1885. In 1888 the road was sold for $10,000,000, meanwhile having lost its landed property. Since the sale it has remained under control of the court, but, strange to say, new issues of bonds and stock have been made and rates have been raised to pay interest on the water, the Texas Railway Commission being restrained from interference by the injunction of the federal court in charge. And, to make things worse, a federal judge ignored a plain and specific charge of blackmail preferred against his subordinate, the receiver.

It is a favorite expedient for law-break ers of this sort to find shelter behind the bench. A receivership is looked upon as affording rich opportunities to do many things which could not be done withou 'judicial protection.' In Pennsylvania there is the curious spectacle of a federal into Filley's hands, and it seems now that court operating a railway for a syndicate of capitalists, who, according to very to put it there by having Parker nominated high legal authority have been violating the law for two years past, and the contracts made unlawfully have been confirmed by the court which adopts them as its own. The Texas case is less conspicuous, but the character of the transactions is essentially the same, and many others might be cited in which wrong has been consummated and legalized by grace of the federal courts which could not have been accomplished in any other way. There is something to think about in this prostitution of justice to greed. Our courts, particularly the federal judiciary, have been the pride of the country and few charges have ever been made against their integrity. But the events of the past few be the managing partner at the front and vears indicate that the money power is too which prevent the people from being justif strong on the bench as it is in legislatures and executive offices.

> THE fate of the third party depends upon the events of the next four years. There is no doubt that in spite of some crazy ideas which have found lodgement in the Populist brain there is something vital and pertinent in the principles of the organization, but whether or not these will grow and fructify is a question to be decided by the course of the two great parties rather than by the merits of the third. In the character of some of its demands the People's party has more affinity with the Republicans than with the Democrats. They imply strong government, centralization and dependence rather than selfhelp and individualism. Unless the Republican party develops an unexpected vitality under the chastening of adversity, as often happens, the really paternalistic elements will pass over into the new elaimant on public favor while the more robust members, the self-reliant indiriduals who believe in true Democracy will find a congenial home with the party of Cleveland. There are great opportunities ahead of the Populists, but they depend quite as much on the vices and weaknesses of the Republican party as on the virtues of the Populist movement.

WHILE the date of the inauguration is nder discussion, let us think a little of the crass absurdity of exposing the outgoing and incoming Presidents and Cabinets, the Supreme Court and the two Houses of Congress to whatever weather chances to prevail on the momentous day. The existence of the Government is threatened by such nonsense. It is a wonder that those who took part in the eremonies last Saturday are not all fighting pneumonia. Common sense suggests that the inauguration take place inloors when it rains or snows. The comfort, health and perhaps life of the most eminent men in the country should not be endangered for the sake of a spectacular and barbaric display.

LIEUT.-COL. STREATOR, the same whose ondign punishment of Private Iams for reason to plutocracy made him the pet of the millionaire guard of Pennsylvania, is now himself under serious charges of undierly conduct. It seems that when the Colonel was in Washington he fell into great advo evil ways, got drunk, assaulted an but we indulge the hope that he will be spared the penalties of torture and humilition which attach to such offenses in the militia of the Keystone State. Let it be ered to his credit by his superiors that his misconduct occurred at the inauguration of a Democratic President and that in his wild outbreak against military discipline he uttered not one word agains the plutocratic rulers of his State. These mitigating circumstances and his past zeal should serve him well in his trial.

M. D. M. says: "The millionaire cannot decrease the real wealth of the world one particle more than will suffice for his own personal needs." (This also being said to disprove Uncle Tom's assertion that "some millionaires crush the life out of poor producers")

So? Then the real wealth of the world is only what one can eat, wear, sleep upon, live in and enjoy oneself with? That is a dreadful break for one to make who is hand and glove with "the profoundest thinkers of this and many other ages." True, as opposed to mere money, the creature comforts of life are the real wealth, because we cannot eat, wear, sleep upon, live in or use for fuel, gold, sliver or greenbacks.

But behind these creature comforts are the human muscle and brain, which produce them; and behind these again are the courage, perseverance and enthusiasm which make the difference between the faithful

This opportunity is the real wealth of our country, and it was this opportunity that our constitution was framed to secure. Also it is as true now as ever that "Man cannot live them." by bread alone," which means also by work alone; and one of the burning questions of the day must be the subtle relation between vast fortunes at the top and the sickening struggle for existence at the bottom.

Some of these superfluous dollars might be used to add to the daily wages of thousands of workingmen, the few cents that would give them a little more elbow room in which to live as becomes the workingmen of a mighty republic, and to find out whether the inherited spark of divinity really is dead within them. Or they might be used to undersell and drive out of the mad race for a living yet more small industries, so increasing that dreadful mass of humanity that is already bankrupt in every quality that goes es would take most from the real wealth of the country and cease using his doubtful strength to champion the cause of the mil-lionaire, who surely doesn't need it, and who

A Twelfth Street Idea

The street car tracks could be placed next to the fence, leaving a wide roadway for the street traffic on either side. This would make a beautiful spot out of what is now dreary waste and would be an ornament to a part of the city that is almost the first seen by strangers, on account of its being the main highway from the present and the future Union Depot. The city has the ground, which is at present worse than wasted, and center of Twelfth street, from Market to Union Depot. The city has the ground, which is at present worse than wasted, and the improvement would cost but a trifle, comparatively. It seems to me the idea is worthy of consideration.

But the fair bride opposed to their disdains a degree of tranquil in ence, which was disconcerting and was not to be overcome. And those who tried to poke fun at her plebelan origin were always compelled to retire dis and abashed. The ready wit of Mme. de Brissac availed, not only to protect her gainst all assaults, but to turn the weapons of her assailants against themselves. For instance, she was once present at a solree, at which one of her fellow guests was the Duke de Prasiin, whose father, as may be remembered, had murdered his wife some peculiar horror. The young Countess was eating an ice and chanced to let portion of it on her elegant dress. "Take care, Countess," quoth M. de Praslin who was standing near her, "sugar stains." At the time of her first marriage Mile. Say was a charming blonde, fresh and fair and dimpled. In consequence of her talents as a vocalist, Mme. de Tredern is greatly addicted to giving musical entertainments, at which she is the chief prima donna. Within the last few years, however, she has limited her performances as a singer to her own house. She was, while her voice was in its prime, occasionally to be heard at a concert for some noted charity, or at some solemn function of the church. Now she sing of the church. Now she sings only for the delectation of her her intimate friends. I have noticed that amateur singers as well as the great prima donne of the lyric theaters are apt to refuse

A ROYAL WEDDING.

CHICAGO, Ill., March 9.-The son of Peterson of 778 Dania avenue. Romance. determination and originality surrounded determination and originality surrounded the character of the young man. Karl XV. of Sweden was his father. He was graduated from the University of Stockholm with high honors and having a penchant for music, was about to start on a famous career as an opera singer. One evening while out for a stroll about quaint Stockholm he heard the appealing strains of sacred music. Out of curiosity he walked slowly over to the church. Somehow the hymn moved him and when St. Jernfeldt walked out of the door that night he had made up his mind to enter actively into the work of the Christian religion. Operatic engagements and arrangements were cancelled.

work of the christian religion. Operative engagements and arrangements were cancelled.

A little over a year ago Konrad St. Jernfeldt landed in Boston. He kept the fact of his royal blood a studied secret. Few who listened to his sermons dreamed that his father had held the scepter on the Swedish throne. The young foreigner began work at once as a revivalist. He would hire a church and hold meetings for two or three weeks. Then he began at a new location, but always in a large city. His work was among those of his own nationality. From Boston he went to New York, from New York to Ohlo, and thence back to New York.

Months ago he arrived in Chicago and began a course of study at the Theological School of the Northwestern University. His purpose was to fit himself for the Christian ministry. He progressed so well that something over six weeks ago he was sent out to preach at the Norwegian Methodist Church on Maplewood avenue. Through his coming before the people of this church he met Miss Paulovenn Petersen. She was shandsome and had been prominent in work among the various clubs and and societies of the church. It was a very short time until the new minister was telling hiss Petersen that he loved her, and, his passion being reciprocated, an early marriage was the logical sequence.

The affair was celebrated with great eclat

What Power or Influence

Following is one of the strangest of letters. It is from the poetess and author, Mrs. F. Heisten, who resides at 464 Bedford avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

His bride is Miss Paulovena to bed Mr. Kraper, who had the adjoining room with his wife, went in and explained to his sister the manner of operating the stopper of the gas fixture. The young woman either did not turn the stopper far enough or else the catch to stop it was gone and she turned it too far. In any event, she was heard to groan this morning and a boy was put through the transom. was put through the transom, as she would not or could not open the door. The boy noticed a very strong smell of gas which was also very perceptible when the door was opened. The young woman was almost unconscious and Dr. Hill, at Hotel Rosmore, was sent for. He immediately applied restoratives and an hour later the patient was able to take care of herself, although she felt somewhat shaken. Dr. Hill said, when asked about it, that there was not the slightest danger of the young woman suffering more than a temporary discomfort from her accident.

The affair was celebrated with great celat by the cream of the city's Scandinavian population. Mr. St. Jernfeldt declines to say much about his future prospects. It was learned, however, that for the present he and his bride will reside at 178 Dania avenue. He will continue his studies.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

The House Passes the Appropriation Bill by 89 to 35.

TALE OF FIXING A DAY FOR FINAL AD-JOURNMENT OF THE LEGISLATURE.

Consideration of the General Appropristion Bill in Committee of the Whole-Protest Over an Item Giving the Executive Mansion a New Plano-It Came From Polk County.

JEFFEISON CITY, Mo., March 9.—The House this morning passed the State University appropriation bill, by a vote of 89 to 85. This allows the University a quarter of a million dollars for the completion of the buildings destroyed by fire over a year ago. The University appropriation is the special hobby of Chairman Rust of the Appropriation Committee. To secure its passage the hardest kind of iobby work was required.

A long discussion followed on the resolution fixing the 17th inst as the day for final adjournment, during which the Republicans occused the Democratic members of extravagance, waste of time and general

The general appropriation bill was con sidered at great length in the Committee the Whole. A well developed kick was registered by Jones of Polk County on an item in the bill for a new plano in the Governor's Mansion. Jones, who is a Republican from way back, said he did not think the State ought to contribute anything for keeping up the mansion. Rust replied that the Governor would be to vacate the mansion and rent a three-room cottage if the State did not provide means for furniture, repairs and contingent expenses. The item was al-lowed to stay in the bill despite Mr. Jones' did not provide means for furniture, repairs and contingent expenses. The item was allowed to stay in the oill despite Mr. Jones' protest.

The Senate Committee on Cities, Towns and Villages this afternoon agreed to favorably report the firemen's pension bill in precisely the same shape as it passed the House. This practically means that the bill will be finally passed to morrow morning.

Asking A PARR APPROPROPRATION.

The St. Louis Board of Health is worked up over the decision of a majority of the members of the House Committee on Appropriation for the St. Louis Insane Asylum from $85,000. Which was given by the last Legislature to $20,000 a reduction of $55,000. These appropriations are made for two years and the difference to St. Louis will be $32,500 per year—a very material reduction and one that is considered manifestly unjust to the metropolis of the State in view of the fact that it pays more than one-third of the taxes of the State and has to care for all the insane that are shipped there from the country. Those who oppose the idea of giving St. Louis a fair appropriation for the asylum contend that the city ought to ship the lunatics back to the countles from which they were sent, but in most cases this is an inhuman proceeding and the city ought to ship the lunatics back to the countles from which they were sent, but in most cases this is an inhuman proceeding and the city ought to ship the lunatics back to the countles from which they were sent, but in most cases this is an inhuman proceeding and the city Counselor Marshall and Dr. Otto E. Forster, representing the Municipal Government of St. Louis are here working hard to convince the Appropriation Committee, headed by Chalrman Rust of Kansas City, a "push" chieftain, propose to give. Counselor Marshall and Dr. Otto E. Forster, representing the Municipal Government of St. Louis there are 553 people in the insane asylum proper, but this does not by any means represent the total number of insane persons cared for by the city. There are, at the pres

the Poor-house, making the total number 1,065.

Counselor Marshall's figures show the following as the cost to the State for the insane asylums during the past two years.

Patients.

Cost.

The figures concerning the St. Louis asylum apply only to the amounts drawn during the past two years from the State appropriation. The balance came out of the municipal appropriation, and a large portion of it was used for the insane department of the Poorpropriation, and a large portion of it was used for the insane department of the Poorhouse.

The argument advanced by Counselor Marshai and Dr. Forster is that 25 per cent of the insane in the asylum are from outside St. Louis, and that the city ought to rece. ve a fair appropriation from the State to assist in properly caring for these unfortunates.

Chairman Rust of the House Committee has already declared that if St. Louis will not accept $20,000 without a murmur, she will get nothing at all. He bases this on the ground that the State is not obliged to give the St. Louis Asylum a single penny. While there is some dispute on this ground, the fact remains that it is a common custom for countles to unload their insane people on St. Louis and that city has to pick them up and care for them at the asylum and Poor-house. The disposition of the money givers in the Legislature is regarded as strange when the fact is brought to view that the city pays more than $3\pmu per cent of the total expenses of running the State Government and all the institutions.

Two years ago when the appropriation of $85,000 was obtained through the efforts of Representatives Alonso C. church and J. B. Parker a sub-committee from the Appropriations formittee visited St. Louis is no was possible in all appropriations. The remedy suggested for St. Louis is to send every lunatic back to the county from which he was sent, and this policy will undoubtedly be followed if the Assembly accepts the illiberal appropriation fixed by Mir. Rust's committee.

which he was sent, and this policy will and doubtedly be followed if the Assembly accepts the illiberal appropriation fixed by Mr. Rust's committee.

POOL BILL CAUSES A STR.

About the strongest lobby of the session, excepting, of course, the promoters that pushed through Senator Stone's street improvement bill, is here now on the pool bill, as it is called. The bill originated in the Senate and was introduced by Senator Lyman of Kansas City, who aided so materially in choking off underground wire legislation for St. Louis. This measure offers amendments to the Stone pool law, which will permit the sale of pools, book bets and other betting on outside races, on Missouri tracks of more than three furiongs in extent during the regular meetings. If passed it will enable the patrons of the St. Louis tracks to bet on Brighton, Latonia and other outside races while the regular meetings in that city are in progress.

The lobby for the bill eight of the St. Louis of the St. Louis Jockey Club and he has a large force of assistants. Col. Christy of Kansas City is working the members from Western Missouri on the argument that if the bill is not passed thousands of dollars will be spent on dilinois and Kansas tracks that could be kept in Missouri.

President Adler of the South Side track in St. Louis is also working effectively for the bill. Even Ben Deering, who came up here to urge high licenses for saloons, has been hauled into the swirl. He is in favor of the bill on the ground that the East Side track is a very wicked place. Col. Deering was caught dead to rights yesterday lobbying for the bill.

The opposition to the pool bill is confined almost entirely to the East St. Louis track owners and bookmakers. Ed Butler is largely interested in the East Side track and he has been here twice during the past few weeks urging the defeat of the Suli. The indications this morning were that this number had been secured. Country members regard it as a contention between rival race tracks and the impression is gaining that if gamb

URGING PROSECUTIONS. trict Attorney C. M. Hays, W. J. McConnell Chairman of the State Board, fully verifies the statement to the effect that certain mem-bers of the Idaho Legislature were guilty of shameless bribery during the last session of the General Assembly, which adjourned on the 6th. In his letter Mr. McConnell states: the 6th. In his letter Mr. McConnell states:

During the session, and since, it has been a notorious fact that parties were here in the interest of different colleges and schemes who were willing to, and undoubtedly did, use money in purchasing votes to earry out their particular legislation. Neither of the three political parties represented in the present Legislature are blamed for the action of their members in facelying bribes. I don't think that bribery was confined to any one, or even two of the parties. I believe that members in all three were indicated in a corrupt manner, and justice to the Mate dedomands that prosecutions should be begun, that the people of this State may know that an includual whe so far forgets his duty as to receive a bribe will be obnoxious not only now, but for all time.

VON DER ARE HOME.

He Will Not Give Up His Players-

Statement From Watkins. President Von der Ahe of the St. Louis Browns, who went to New York to attend the League meeting, but who was suddenly called home upon the unfavorable turn in the condition of his son Edward, arrived home this morning badly broken up in spirits and weary from his hurried trip,

In speaking of the League meeting, he said:

"I had just reached the Fifth Avenue, New York, when telegrams were handed me to return home. I took the first train, leaving my proxy with President Soden of the Boston Ciub. I know nothing of any action taken at the meeting regarding Eastern and Southern league players. If the Board of Arbitration has decided that the St. Louis ciub has piayers under contract who do not belong to us, the board will have to give pretty strong proof to have us give them up. There are two sides to every question, and by reason of my enforced absence from the meeting, St. Louis' side of the case was not presented or heard."

"Do you think you will have a chance to retain Clarkson, Bolan, Barnett and Peits?"

"Yes; Peitz does not come under the fuling. Cahill I decided some time age not to take, as I had two good catchers in Buckley and Peitz. So instead of losing six men, we will, in my judgment, not lose any. Clarkson, Dolan and Burnett, three good pitchers, are the players whom the Eastern league want league broke the rules and regulations of the national agreement under which they get their protection and failed to carry out their obligations. I do not see for the life of me how In speaking of the League meeting, he the Board of Arbitration in the light of these facts can award these players to clubs who have, by reason of a failure of their obligations under the laws of the national agreement, forfeited all claim to them."

W. H. Watkins, manager of the Rochester Club of the Eastern League of last season, is emphatic in his assertions that the Eastern League forfeited all right to their players by reason of their failure to fulfill their obligations in not paying the salaries due the players, and in support of his assertions makes the following statement:

"The action taken by the Hoard of Arbitration, if correct as reported, is certainly high-handed and unjust. When the Eastern League disbanded last summer, they did so on Sept. 16, fourteen days before the contracts expired and long before the championship season was completed. The way the Rochester players were paid, I divided all the money I had between them, siving each men $28, when the club owed each men $28, when the club owed each man twenty to twenty-five days' pay The amount owing each player was from $5 to $160. That is the way Rochester quit. At the time the League disbanded Providence arranged with me for the use of McKeogh, Dolan, McGarr and Swartwood to play of the final series with Singhamton, Burnham, the Providence manager, refused to pay the boys their salaries. Instead of $300 each they got: Swartwood, $301 McKeogh, $301 polan, McGarr, $301 McKeogh, $302 polan, McGarr, $302 McKeogh, $303 polan, money for work done last June, and I myself have about two months' salary coming which I don't expect to get."

From the Chicago Times.
Since the first ball of the Pairiarchs, arranged by Ward McAllister in 1872, those "American aristocrats" have expended for their annual entertainments of the beau monde nearly $400,000. AT THE BIG TRACK.

Matters Assume a Racing Air at the Fair Grounds.

PRAISERS PREPARING THEIR HORSES FOR THE COMING CAMPAIGN.

Some of the Likely Colts Being Prepared at This Point - President Cleveland Takes a Hand in the Jersey Race Track War-Lucky Bob Fitzsimmons-

Matters are beginning to assume a busi-ness-like air at the Fair Grounds track, The rain of the last two days has driven the ponies to the straw drive, but on fine days during the past week the flyers were brought out and given their income. their inaugural warming up on the turf.
From now until the opening of the meeting next month, stables will be arriving every day and trainers will be hard at work getting the flyers in trim for the season's campaign. Secretary Bellairs finds applica-tion for statle room in his mail every morning and the number will increase every day. The track is being put in shape rapidly, and by next week matters will be in full blast.

'The best looking race horse I have even seen at the Fair Grounds, barring El Rio Rey point in the 2-year-old form," said Capt. Bellairs this morning, "is Dr. Crowley's St. Augustine, a 4-year-old, full brother to J. B. Hagghi's Firenzi by Glenely out of Florida. Orawley purchased this animal at the sale of the late ex-Congressman W. L. Scott's blooded stock and brought him to the Fair Grounds. While a 2-year-old the colt was sickly, which prevented him from being trained, and he has never faced a starter. In Crawley's hands the animal has improved wonderfully, and is now a beautiful looking brown colt, with white hind stockings. In both development and action he resembles a race horse in every respect, and if he does not demonstrate this fact conclusively the coming season, all the authorities at the Fair Grounds will be sadly disappointed. Crawley has the colt entered in the Brewing Association and the Merchants' and Manufacturers' stakes and he expects to capture them both, in addition to some over-night handicaps with him, providing all goes well. It will pay to watch this animal." point in the 2-year-old form," said Capt.

some over-night handicaps with him, providing all goes well. It will pay to watch this animal."

Most of the horses at the Fair Grounds were cut working on the big track Saturday. Quarters were recled off in :27 and upwards by the bangtails handliy.

The firm of C. C. Mamitt & Co., which is composed of Charley Mamitt and Max Kotany, owns a pair of likely-looking 2-year-old colts by Elkwood. One of them out of Tawdy, is called the Ironmaster. In honor of Mamitt, while the other, who is out of imp. War Jance by Fidler, was named The Broker in honor of Kotany. There is considerable rivalry batween Mamitt and Kotany as to which of the two is the best colt and the former was tickled immensely when he was informed by Trainer Tommy Sayers that The Ironmaster worked a quarter in :26 Thursday, while the best The Broker did was to reel the distance off in :27. Taking this as his criterion, Mamitt says that no sensible person can doubt but that The Ironmaster ought to prove the faster, although he admits that he expects The Broker to prove a bread winner.

J. D. Patton's string will arrive next week from Sturgeon, Mo., where Patton winters his thoroughbreeds on his own farm. In a letter to Capt. Bellairs, Patton says all his horses are doing nicely, with the exception or that sturdy old race mare Ethel Gray. "This isonly a game on Patton's part to get Ethel in the handicaps, at a lightweight," said Bellairs. "He always makes this play in the spring, but strange to say lithed never comes to the post looking as if she has not wintered well."

Henry Ivis came in from Kansas City this week and took charge of Wood and Mulkey's string. The senior division of this stable, which includes that excellent performer Virge D'Or, is in good shape, but the 2-year olds have not done so well, all of them have a "coaty" appearance and are rounding into shape rather late.

The Hasty stable 2-year-olds are in magnificient shape.

CLEVELAND TAKES A HAND.

TERRION, N. J., March 9.—The report from Washington that President Cleveland is taking an interest in the race track legislation in his native State has created a mild sensation here. It is believed that both Senators McPherson and Smith have become impressed with the necessity of repealing the new race track laws if the State is to be saved to the Democracy next November.

The Duke of Gloucester and other racing men deny that they have been urged by the United States Senators to "let up," or that they have heard from Washington at all.

AT EAST ST. LOUIS.

The races at the course across the river yesterday were run in the rain, which fell constantly throughout the afternoon. The going stantly throughout the afternoon. The going was sloppy, nevertheless some fair sport took place. Only one favorite was successful. Second choices and outsiders captured the remaining events. Murphy at 5 to 2 and 3 to 1 won the opening event by one length and a half from lago. Coleraine, at 5 to 2 and 4 to 1, was successful in the second by one length from the favorite, Fly Leaf. Backwoods, at 8 and 6 to 5, captured the next event by half a length from Townsend. Lizzle V., at 6 and 8 to 1, walked off with the Owners' Handicap and Ethel Fortune, at 8 and 6 to 1, captured the closing scramble. The last two were interestingly contested.

to the theater in a body. When Sullivan appeared a handsome fioral design was presented by the club. Sullivan sent it to Horo & Kesselers's saloon and gambling-house, where the club makes its was met by the club. He was given supper on the third floor and liquid refreshments were plentiful. John L. and the "Moses" enjoyed themselves until a late hour he thanked the club for the flowers and for the entertainment given him, and then got drunk, as he has after every performance. Speaking of the

THE LOCAL SPARRING BILL. The Local strakely the strakely the strakely the strakely that the lawmakers will see the that the lawmakers will see the justice of their measure and give it favorable consideration. The bill simply asks for the legalizing of sparring exhibitions. The bill is now on the road to success as the members of both houses have come to see that it is desired by the respectable business men of the city, and it is not drawn up in the interest of any prise-fighting element. It has now passed to engressment and will receive a large vote when it comes up for passage.

John Edward Sherlock, the noted Hartford pedestrian, has entered Bill Clark's six-day pedestrian, has entered Bill Clark's six-day go-as-you-please contest, which will be conducted at Natatorium Hall Easter week, and will arrive in this dity shortly to get into shape. Sherlock made an excellent showing in the contest at Madison Square Garden, New York City, two years ago, which was won by John Hughes, with Bennett second and Moore third. Moore says he is confident that sherlock could have been successful on this occasion had he been handled properly. The Connecticut pedestrian is said to have, on one occasion, covered 100 miles in twenty-four hours, and during the journey got around a nine-pound turkey and several dozen oysters. Orle Moore arrived recently and commenced training immediately, Moore will do his morning work in the Natatorium as soon as Clark gets the sawdust track in shape.

Fr. Brady's Successor. Now that Fr. Brady has been buried, the Catholics of the city, especially the clergy, are wondering who will clergy, are wondering who will succeed the dead priest as pastor of St. John's Church and as Vicar-General of the diocese. Archbishop Ryan of Philadelphia was asked to day whether anything had been done toward filling the vacant offices. "No," he replied.

"Do you expect that the appointments will be made soon?"

"I doubt it. The Archbishop has not said anything to me about the matter but I believe that he is thinking about it. I know that nothing has yet been done."

Many think that the dual office filled by Fr. Brady will be held open until the appointment of a coadjutor, who will discharge the duties of the late Vicar-General and will probably occupy St. John's parconial residence. A remark made by Fr. Brady a week ago yesterday, the last day that he was down town, bears out this opinion. He was conversing with a layman of prominence about the protest against his appointment as coadjutor which the priests had forwarded to Rome a few days before. "Thank God," exclaimed the Vicar-General, "there will be a coadjutor appointed by the first of April, and then I shall be plain Fr. Brady once more!"

An Unborn Heir's Interest Can Be Sold a Bloomington Judge Says.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., March 0,-In the Mc ean Circuit Court Judge Tipton decided that the interest of unborn heirs can be legally sold and the purchaser be given a perfect title. He also decided that the money de rived from the sale of the interest must be preserved until it was certain who all his heirs might be. The question involves a principle in law which it is said has never principle in law which it is said has never before been judicially considered in the United States or England. [The question at issue was can the interests of unborn "remainder men" be disposed of. A man died dividing a tract of land to his brother and the heirs of his body. The widow began partition proceedings to have her interest set aside. It was decided the land could not be divided and the only way to give her her interest was to sell the land. Then arose the question whether the possible unborn heirs of the brother of deceased could be disposed of, as they are not parties to the court proceedings. The case will be carried to the Supreme Court in order that a precedent may be firmly established.

Blockaded the Tunnel

One of the trucks of a car loaded with coke in the middle of a west-bound freight delivery train of the Terminal Association of St. Louis, broke when near the west end of the tunnel on Eighth street this morning at 9:80 o'clock. The body of the car went down on the track and caused a jerking of the cars in advance. Engineer William Goodell perceived that the train was dragging and quickly brought it to a stop. The trainmen escaped unhurt and the only damage was the breaking of the car and the blocking of the tunnel until the afternoon, when the cars were removed by a gang of men, and trainc was resumed.

It is predicted that Frederick R. Condert of New York, a famous orator and leading antisnapper, will be made Minister to France.
As to the other big places abroad, many ces not only have handsome salaries attached, but the brilliant court life and sequent social prestige are very enticing to the ambitious, and have served to bring many men into the race who have no ghost of a show of securing any thing above a low-grade consulship. Mr. French is a man of fine literary and artistic tastes, is a good linguist and stands very close to Mr. Cleveland. A hustling Western olitician, who has also had an eye on Berlin crame time, is E. The Japanese Mission will probably go to one of a score of men who are now after the plum. Among these are S. S. Howland for New York, Frank McCoppin of Oakland, Cal.; Frank Gould and J. F. H. The California candidates are here on the ground, fighting for the sup-port of the Democratic delegation in the House, Senator White, the good old-fash-ioned Democrat who has succeeded Senator Felton, will probably have semething to say as to the disposition of this mission, where the American interests are so closely indentified with those of the Pacific Coast. Ex-Gov. Hubbard of Texas, and Col. Bell of Galveston are also on the Japanese slate.

Consul-General at Rome.

All the prophets agreed that Gen. Patrick Collins of Massachusetts would be the Consul-General at London. Nobody will ever know what this fat office is really worth except the men who fill it unless they choose to tell. A modest estimate of the salary and fees is $25,000, but the place may be worth $10,000 more. Another almost equally lucrative position is the Consul-Generalship at Liverpool. This is commonly rated at $10,000 or $12,000 a year, but there is some hocuspocus in the division of the fees charged by English commissioners for certifying invoices of goods to be shipped to America that

There is an enterprising young Georgian after the Japanese Mission, but he won't get it. He is B. M. Blackburn, and he is hardly more than 25 years of age. He is said to have forfeited his chances by seeking an interview with President Cleveland, in which he urged his candidacy rather too warmly to please the new executive. There is very little gossip concerning the Italian mission. Ex-Gov. Ingersoil of Connecticut has been spoken of in connection with the post, but his friends are not making very much of a fight for the place.

SENATOR HILL CALLS,

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND RECEIVES HIS GREAT NEW YORK ENEMY,

Washington, D. C., March 9 .- The one great feature of interest in political circles to-day is the visit of Senator David B. Hill to President Cleveland. Senator Hill came to the White House this morning by appointment, presumably arranged by Congress-man Rockwell of New York during his visit to Mr. Cleveland on Tuesday. That his visit was more than a mere perfunctory call is attested by the length of the interview. was more than a mere perunctory call is attested by the length of the interview. It lasted twenty minutes and during that time Mr. Cleveland received no cards from the waiting politicians in the cabinet room. Mr. Hill came early. The great flood of office-seekers had not begun to now into the White House when he arrived. He passed rapidly through the hallway in the public part of the mansion into the room of Private Secretary Thurber, who evidently had been posted, for he ushered Mr. Hill into the adjoining executive office without a moment's delay.

Richard Croker, the Tammany chieftain, expressed himself as follows:

'I have seen Mr. Cleveland several times since I have been here, and the relations between him and Tammany are very friendly. I think the President will treat us very well, as he seems kindly disposed toward us.

'I am not after any particular offices, for the reason that I think nothing would be gained by crowding matters just now, when the President is so rushed with business. He should have time to look over the deld, and I know he will do the right thing with us."

CLEVELAND, O., March 9.—The Iron Trade Review, In discussing the ore situation, says: The discussion of prices for '98 ore has opened between one large buyer and certain sellers of Bessemer ores, but another month may come before any announcement of ore sales can be made. The conceasus of Cleveland ore salesmen's views as gathered within the week is that a point will be reached at which the mining interest will make a stand for a living profit; the Bessemer deposits are not to be exhausted without a fair return to their operators; that the necessity does not exist, at least this year, for such reductions as buyers talk of, since the demand for Bessemer ores is likely to be fully up to the amount that will be mined. There are signs in the mining region that there will be no assistance given to the downward movement of prices by the piling of large stocks on the market. CLEVELAND, O., March 9 .- The Iron Trade

Western Schouse at Webster Groves during the second THE GOLD SITUATION. New York, March 9 .- One hundred and fourteen million dollars in gold certificates are out. Of this enormous sum only $20,000,-000 worth, according to the Treasury experts, hoarded. According to the reports of the national banks they hold $73,000,-000 of gold certificates. Statistics are not furnished by the State banks, but it is a fair estimate that they hold $21,000,000. If is probable that the accumulation of some of the bankers represents many large "special accounts" by individuals. Any financier may make a collection of the gold notes and deposit them for safety with his bankers, in which case no particulars are furnished in the reports and the amounts are included in the gold totals of the bank statements. The fin,000,000 gold reserve which is thought by some to be imperiled, may be called on any day by the United States notes or "greenbacks," of which the limit issue is $346,000,000.
On this basts of proportion of paper money of this sort to gold the ratio of the United States is 28.84 per cent.
Recent reports of the Bank of France show a percentage of 48.36. Reports of the Bank of England show a percentage of 60.46, and the Banks of Germany, whence no exact reports are available, show an estimate of percentage of 70.81.

Houss-to-House Visitation Postponed-Requiem Mass for Fr. Brady.

The House-to-House Visiting Committee of the St. Louis Sunday-School Union met at noon yesterday and decided to postpone the canvasso f the city until after the conven-tion in the fall. Last year the canvass was held in May, and the committee think that, as many people are leaving the city about as many people are leaving the city about that time, it is a very improper season for a canvass. The committee also decided to hold a joint meeting with the City Mission Committee of the Sunday-School Union. A letter was addressed to the Programme Committee of the International and world's Conventions, which meet here in August and September, asking to have some St. Louisan speak to the assembled delegates on the merits of the house-to-house canvass movement. A meeting of the General Finance Committee, composed of these three repretatives of each Sunday-school, will belief at the Second Presbyterian Church, March 16. The Committee on Hail read the contract made for the Exposition Music Hall. The Excursion Committee reported that two boats had been engaged for Sept. 2, and an option was secured on a third. In the evenings of these three days Miss Green will lecture in different churches. All Sunday-school workers will attend.

Miss Frankie McCarron will, on Monday, take her place as the assistant pastor of the First Unristian Church on Thirty-dirst and Locust streets. Parsons has decided to enlist her in the regular church work. Rev. Parsons says that he has had the idea in mine for some time, but could not find the right one until he found Miss McCarron.

Commercial Notes. New Orleans cleared 18,500 bu of wheat to Havre. New Orieans cleared 18,500 bu of wheat to Havre. Weather not so cold as expected and for the first week in March is seasonable, besides being favorable for the crops.

The weekly packing in the West was 140,000 hogs, against 160,000 the previous week and 175,000 during the corresponding week last year.

Pewer's Sons of New York have a canle which says: "Free offerings of La Plate wheat at relatively lower than American is depressing the London and continental markets." on and continental markets."
In one of this morning's Cnicago papers Phil Armour is interviewed and says he expects to buy hogs at 6e in May, and that provisions are selling for gold at the highest prices in forty years.

Webster, S. D.—Farmers everywhere are preparing to put in a good big crop. There is no doubt or delay, the acreage in this county will be large. They are ready and anxious to commence spring's work. The Cincinnatt Price Current: It has been a tryng weak for wheat over a considerable area, notably where much of the crop usually looks vigorous;

nothing definitely can be stated until season is Taking into consideration the supplies of foreign wheat still in foreign hands the stocks of wheat in importers' and millers' hands and the amount of wheat on passage for the United Kingdom and the total English supply in sight is 78,984,000 bu, against 76,480,000 bu last year and 57,472,000 bu twe years ago.

The exports of wheat from Russia from Aug 1 to Feb 11 have been 44,264,000 bu. against 47,216,000 bu two years ago. and 49,036,601 bu three years ago. Recent advices from South Russia are that the mark oits there have been very dull owing to the lack of European demand. Crop respects continue favorable and interior scocks are reported rather liberal. The Chleago man was on the floor to-day, of whom the story is told that after having seen a number of telegrams stating that the U K was a heavy buyer ef wheat, he finally turned to a friend and earnestly asked: "Say, who the — is this U K? He must be a big operator, for he's been a buyer for several days." days."

Holland imported only 117,900 qrs of foreign wheat in Jan, Roumania supplying 34,800 qrs. America 29,000 qrs, and Russia 27,000 qrs. Last year in the same month 206,000 qrs were imported. Beerbohn says that advices from the Danubian ports are that there is quite a large surplus of corn awaiting export from the unusually large crop of last year, notwithstanding the fact that experts were very heavy during the fall.

UNJUST LITIGATION.

Lawyer's Suggestion for Discouraging Suits Which Should Not Be Filed. The following communication from Mr. E. . B. Garesche calls attention to a character of litigation often seen in the State courts and the remedy:

and the remedy:

Permit me to call attention to an evil which should by all means be remedied by our begislature now in session.

The docket of our courts contain two classes of suits whose presence there ought to be diccouraged. They are those where the plaintiffs ought never to have sued, because there was not a ghost of a shadow of justice on their side, and those where plaintiffs should never have been compelled to sue to recover that which clearly belonged to them.

It is but just in such cases that the party who is manifestly in the wrong and who has used the courts for improper purposes, should be compelled to make full amends to the person whom he has put to unnecessary expense.

son whom he has put to unnecessary expense.

If, for instance, A owes a note to B of $100 and interest, and B is compelled to sue A for the amount, under the present system of practice the most that B can recover of A would he $100, interest and the costs of court, and out of this amount B would have to pay his attorney a fee of at least $25, leavling him at a complete loss to that extent.
The courts, therefore, in this respect, do not afford adequate relief to the successful litigant.

not afford adequate relief to the successful litigant.

In New York the statute gives certain fees to the successful lawyer, which must be paid to him by the unsuccessful party, because it is deemed but just that he who wrongfully causes litigation should pay the costs which he has compelled by his wrongful acts of omission or commission.

The rule, therefore, which compels the party in fault to pay at least a part of the expense which he has compelled the party who suffered wrong to incur, in order to recover his rights, is but just and consistent with sound policy.

On the other hand the law which exempts on the other hand the law which exempts a man from paying anything of the unnecessary expense which he has compelled the injured party to incur, encourages vexatious litigation. Under our present system of practice persons having just causes of action prefer in many cases to compromise them at a loss rather than to insist upon the full measure of their right.

I noticed that a bill has been introduced in the Legislature of Illinois, providing that when any final decree or judgment is rendered, if the Court finds the action prosecuted or the defense set up is frivolous, he may award the successful party a reasonable sum as attorney's fees; that when a final decree or judgment is rendered by default the Judge may in his discretion award the successful party a reasonable sum as attorney's fees, and that if any dilatory motion is overruled, stricken out or withdrawn, the Judge if he finds it frivolous may award the successful party a reasonable sum for legal services.

I think however that it might be well to vices.

I think, however, that it might be well to limit the discretion of the judge, as is done in New York, by providing that the amount allowed by him shall not exceed a certain percentage of the sum or the value of the thing sued for. But while the Illinois bill is weak in this regard. I think that the princiak in this regard, I think that the princiweak in this regard, I think that the principle is sound.

If a man brings a suit which is clearly unjust, why should he not suffer for it?

If dilatory motions are made on behalf of a suitor for no other purpose than to gain time and wear out his antagonist, why should he not pay for it?

Take, for instance, the case of a debtor, who, though perfectly able to pay, refuses out of sheer malice to do so. The sum is a small one, and the creditor sue before a Justice of the Peace and recovers judgment. The defendant appeals to the Circuit Court simply in order to give his creditor all the trouble he can. Defeated there after a year or so delay, he carries the case to the Appellate Court.

He congratulates himself that, even if he does have to pay the debt, he will make it dear business for the plaintiff. These cases are frequent.

dear business for the plaintiff. These cases are frequent.

Lawyers will recognize them as cases where stubborn clients say "even though the law is awainst me I will fight the case as a matter of principle, and make it cost my adversary the amount of the claim before I will pay it."

There is no justice in this. It is simply a flat denial of fustice.

For these reasons I think that the matter ought to be remedied without delay, and I ask your co-operation in that behalf.
